

Blue and Orange Tick Swing Tag and Sticker Order Form

The Blue and Orange Tick certification agreements allow suppliers to make use of the AFRDI Blue Tick and Furntech Orange Tick certification marks to promote certified products. An easy way to identify certified products is via the display of swing tags and stickers sourced through Furntech-AFRDI.

All you need do is complete the attached order form (see page 2). In every case a proof will be provided and your approval is required before the print run starts. Please then allow up to 2 weeks for delivery within Australia.

Swing tags come with the AFRDI Blue Tick or Furntech Orange Tick certification trademarks on one side (varnished to be rub-resistant) and products listed in the format as per page 3 on the other, with 3 mm holes punched top centre

The same guidelines apply for stickers regarding content and layout as for swing tags.

Prices for swing tags and/or stickers are available upon request.

Mock Up

Page 3 illustrates the mock up of the reverse side of an AFRDI Blue Tick swing tag. Please note Furntech Orange Tick swing tags and stickers follow the same layout except it reads "Furntech" instead of "AFRDI" and the Tick is a shade of orange.

Customised swing tags or stickers require specific written authorisation by Furntech-AFRDI (this is required whoever prints the promotional material) and may incur additional set-up/production costs.
